DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. Figure 1-3 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the examiner does not accept the changes, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Objections

2. Claims 5-13 are objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c) as being in improper form because a multiple dependent claim cannot depend from any other multiple dependent claim. See MPEP § 608.01(n). Accordingly, the claims 5-13 have not been further treated on the merits.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. Claims 12 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The preambles of the claims are not consistent with the parent claims. Appropriate corrections are required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Smith (4,531,672).

Smith discloses a fuel pump arrangement for delivering high pressure fuel to an associated engine, the fuel pump arrangement including three or more pumping plungers (78), each having an associated pump chamber (90) and return biasing means (116) for effecting a return stroke of the plunger (78), and an associated cam (12) for driving the plunger to perform a pumping stroke against the return biasing means (100), during which pumping stroke fuel within the pump chamber (90) is pressurized, wherein each cam (12) is oriented relative to each other cam, the fuel pump arrangement being characterized in that each cam (12) has a surface shaped such that the associated plunger return stroke (upstroke 112) is interrupted to define a plurality of steps of plunger movement, each step of plunger movement being substantially synchronous with the pumping stroke of another of the plungers (78), thereby to reduce negative torque loading of the camshaft.

The relied reference of Smith is “inherently capable” of performing the functional limitations set forth in the claim as “to reduce negative torque loading of the camshaft” because the structural limitations of the claim are met by the reference.

Art Unit: 3747

Regarding claim 2, wherein each cam surface is shaped to include a rising flank (112) and a falling flank (124), the falling flank having a plurality of irregularities defining the steps of plunger movement, and wherein the cams (12) are mounted upon the engine camshaft, in use, at angularly offset locations to ensure the or each step of movement through a plunger return stroke substantially coincides with the pumping stroke of one of the other plungers (78).

Regarding claim 3, wherein each cam surface is shaped to define a number of steps of movement through the plunger return stroke that is equal to the number of other plungers (78) in the pump arrangement.

Regarding claim 4, wherein each cam surface is shaped to define a number of steps of movement through the plunger return stroke that is less than the number of other plungers in the pump arrangement.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The cited references show cam actuated fuel injectors.
